

THAT CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE

Mrs. Godden Tells How It May Be Passed in Safety and Comfort.

Fremont, O.—"I am passing through the critical period of life, being forty-six years of age and had all the symptoms incident to that change—heat flashes, nervousness, and was in a general run down condition, so I was hard on me to do my work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me as the best remedy for my troubles, which it surely proved to be. I feel better and stronger in every way since taking it, and the annoying symptoms have disappeared."—Mrs. M. GODDEN, 925 Napoleon St., Fremont, Ohio.

Such annoying symptoms as heat flashes, nervousness, headache, irritability and "the blues," may be speedily overcome and the system restored to normal conditions by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If any complications present themselves write the Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for suggestions how to overcome them. The result of forty years experience is at your service and your letter held in strict confidence.

STONINGTON

The Second battalion, Third regiment, Connecticut State Guard, commanded by Major Charles P. Williams, and composed of two companies from Mystic and one each from Stonington and Pawcatuck, held field day at Stonington, Major Williams' estate. The greater part of the day was occupied with company and battalion drills, guard mounting and outpost duty. The large field is the scene in which the entire regiment maneuvered several weeks ago. The course there was general response to mess call and Major Williams amply supplied the subsistence department.

William A. Cook died Friday at his residence, corner of School and Ocean streets, as the result of heart failure. Mr. Cook was by trade a blacksmith and boat builder. He was born July 4, 1856, in Niantic, R. I. He is survived by his wife and one daughter, Mrs. Charles E. Enloe, of the borough. Rev. Dwight C. Stone officiated at the funeral Sunday afternoon.

The Stonington town school committee has chosen Miss Edith Duggin to instruct the pupils of the eighth grammar grade of the borough school this year. She taught the seventh grade last year and previously was the teacher of the sixth grade. Miss Agnes Killara, formerly a teacher in the school, will teach the seventh grade. This fills the corps of instructors in the borough.

Stonington Pointers. Rev. H. B. Carpenter of Providence preached the sermon of the First Baptist church Sunday. W. R. Uchman, the evangelist, gave an illustrated lecture in Borough hall Sunday evening. Topic, "The Sanctuary, Will We Know Each Other Heaven?"

Mrs. Cora Cone left for her home in Johnson, Tenn. She has been at the home of Mrs. Silas P. Holmes for several days. Miss Lucile Champlin and George Champlin of Kingston, R. I., are the guests at the home of James W. Rittenhouse on Cliff street.

PLAINFIELD

A letter recently received by Harold Burke from a friend in Europe, tells him that things are coming from his way and that he hopes to be home in six months. The letter reads as follows: "My dear Harold—How is everything in the good old town of Plainfield? The boys on my ship are in eager hopes that if the Yankees boys ever here they will be glad to see you. I shall be home before 1919 starts its events. The place where I am now stationed is having its rainy season and the weather is miserable. I have received word from my brother Fred and he told me that they were pushing the Germans back like a cat chases a rat to its lair. Last week I met a troop of 200 men who had just landed from the States and you can certainly bet that we had one great time."

On account of the terrible temperature, many people have been unable to enjoy the sea breezes at many seashores. Lionel Raymond, Edward Peltier, William Sullivan and Joseph Curran motored to Ocean Beach for the day. Harold Burke went on business to New London Sunday.

Cora Adams has gone to Hartford to spend the week-end with relatives. Walter Dougherty motored to Willimantic with friends yesterday. A minor accident occurred on the Moshon trail Sunday afternoon two machines while driving at a moderate rate of speed collided. The one owned by Clarence Johnson suffered minor injuries, but the other operated by John Denowen escaped uninjured.

BALTIC

Mr. and Mrs. Collins of Depot Hill have returned from a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Foster, Mendon road, and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Lindquist of Pawcatuck. It is the first time in forty years that Mrs. Collins and Mrs. Foster have met. They were playmates in Lancashire, England, and it was through an announcement in a newspaper three years ago that caused their reunion this week. George Bell spent Sunday at Narragansett Pier.

Charles Garrett of Railroad street spent Sunday at Fishers Island. Root Love spent Sunday with relatives at Groton Long Point.

WESTERLY

The Westerly Visiting Nurse association will hold a tag day today to raise funds to carry on the work of the organization. Arrangements for the tag day were made under the supervision of Mrs. Charles E. Sherman. Last year the association realized $1,100 and it is expected to increase the contributions to $1,500 this year. The Girl Scouts, a new organization formed by Miss Elizabeth Champlin, will take an active part in the canvassing of the town for funds and the Westerly band has volunteered its services for a concert this evening. This Girl Scouts, working in connection with the Boy Scouts, will take up collections during the concert.

The committee has established five stations about the town where the collections will be made, as follows: Corner of High street and Railroad avenue, Grove avenue and Granite street, Franklin street and East avenue, East and Elm streets, and West Broad and Mechanic streets. That this year's exhibition at the Washington County Fair will eclipse past events now seems an assured thing. The usual competitive exhibits of fruit and vegetables will take place and there will be a number of educational exhibits dealing with food conservation and agricultural problems. Special plans have been made for a series of excellent vaudeville entertainment and will be under the supervision of Samuel Baidino. The race track is in excellent condition and, according to George L. Salisbury, superintendent of the races, a strong card is being booked.

The Second Company, Rhode Island State Guard, of South Kingston, will leave today and go into camp for four days with the regulars at Fort Kearney. The company will hike as far as the Nixon of the Boston Neck road and there camp for four days. The company will drill with the regulars. The newly-organized company drum and trumpet corps and the medical corps will accompany the company.

For the third time in 140 years the able-bodied men of military age in Rhode Island have been subjected to draft and inducted into active service. The first of the drafts was conducted to provide a quota of men to fight Great Britain's invading forces. This was ordered to be made in the spring of 1777. The second draft was made in July, 1863, to augment the federal army that was contending for the upholding of the Union; and the third, and last was made June 5, 1917, to provide for an overseas force to act in conjunction with the troops of the allied nations.

Not far from the point on Middle-ground reef, where the Clyde steamer Onondago was wrecked off Watch Hill, three months ago, is the fish laden steamer George Hudson, which during a dense fog early on Sunday, ran onto the reef and sank beyond in forty feet of water. Captain William D. Murray and the crew of 17 men landed at Watch Hill in one of the steamer's seine boats. The Hudson was from off the Jersey coast with a catch of 1000 barrels of menhaden, and was bound to the fish works at Mystic.

The Hudson was owned by the Atlantic Coast Fisheries company, of 140 tons burden and valued at $30,000. The vessel was a motor vessel, and was struck with funnel and both masts showing well above the surface. The steamer seemed to be resting easily Sunday night, and it was said that the T. A. Scott Wrecking Co. would make an examination within a few days. Shortly after the Hudson went down at Watch Hill, put out in a boat to render aid to the shipwrecked fishermen, but they were unable to be of any assistance. Capt. William D. Murray and his crew set out for Mystic in their boat, where they arrived shortly before daylight and reported the sinking of the vessel to Samuel Cheesbrough, manager of the Atlantic Coast Fisheries company, who is a summer resident of Mystic.

The Hudson was built in Kennebec, Me., in 1888. She was 130 feet long, 18 feet wide and 10 feet deep. The vessel was built by Greenleaf & Co., N. Y., about 15 years ago. The names of the captain and members of the crew follow: William B. Murray, Captain; Halston Mass; Leonard Black, chief mate; Booth Bay, Me.; Manson McInnis, steward; Newport, Justin Foster, engineer; Bristol, Me.; Clarence Chase, assistant engineer; Peter Fanning, Mass.; Amos Bogden, Benjamin Boudreau, Daniel Forzier, Everett Hoffrae, T. R. Macomber, M. L. LeBlanc, Alfred Frank, Michael Forzier, Alfred Boudreau, Simon Foster, George Bonner and two firemen, names unknown.

Rev. Michael F. Sullivan, S. M., of Waterbury, who was ordained in June at the Catholic University of America, of the Middle West, has received notice of his appointment as curate at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Westerly. Father Sullivan is prominently known in Waterbury. He attended the Catholic university and completed his course of training for the priesthood at the Marist college, which is a part of the Catholic university. While at this institution he was a member of the Marist society, a brilliant Catholic professor of the United States. He celebrated at his first high mass at the Immaculate Conception church of Waterbury several weeks ago.

A society wedding took place at Narragansett Pier, Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Maude Gwynne Shepherd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Edwards of New York City, and the Rev. Pier, was married to Charles H. Harrah, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Harrah of Philadelphia. Mr. Harrah, Sr., was at one time President of the New York Stock Company. The bride is a niece of Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt and a cousin of Maj.-Gen. Cornelius Vanderbilt and Reginald C. Vanderbilt.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Philip M. Prescott at the home of the bride's parents. Snymead cottage, on Central street. She was given away by her father, Miss Marguerite Prescott was bridesmaid and Dwight Harrick of Philadelphia best man. Only the immediate family attended the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white chiffon, embroidered in pearls and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid's gown was of mauve chiffon with hat to match and spent Sunday with relatives on High street.

Aldi Houle of New London visited relatives on Main street.

William Jones of the state pier visited his mother on Sunday.

G. Shawen of New Haven visited W. E. Rocheleau Sunday.

Willis Ridgeway, Grant Bush, Harold and Harry Hannon have returned from their vacation at Weekapaug.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Bennett and family of Mousup visited over Sunday with Mrs. Bennett's mother, Mrs. George St. Onge of High street.

Joseph R. Mahon was in Pawcatuck and Valley Falls over Sunday. Rudolph Lamm of Pawcatuck visited relatives in Baltic Sunday.

Frank Nichols of New London was in Baltic Saturday.

Troop No. 1, Boy Scouts, have returned from a week's camping at South Harwick, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. William Buckley and their daughter, Mae, motored to Narragansett Pier Sunday.

DANIELSON

The Williams and Crowell Company, recently mentioned in press despatches as having been purchased by the Bayer Co., some of whose officials have been heard of and interviewed by the United States Government, has a plant at North Sterling, until a few months ago and since has been located at Packard. The organizers of the Williams and Crowell Company, are not believed here to have had any knowledge of the Bayer Company's purposes in buying their concern, though it is now claimed by the government that the Bayer Company bought the Williams and Crowell Company to use in building up fences for the protection of the fake German dye trusts entered in this country after the war. Williams and Crowell Company's headquarters are in Providence. They started the manufacture of dye at North Sterling, since the beginning of the war and met with a remarkable business success. Much of their product was shipped from Danielson until the removal of the business to Packard.

Benjamin Burdick of Dayville, while fishing on Alexander's Lake, Saturday afternoon caught a perch about six inches long. When he had reeled the perch nearly to the pole a pickerel weighing more than a pound and a half rushed at the perch and attempted to swallow it. Before the pickerel could disengage its teeth from the perch which it had half swallowed, Mr. Burdick pulled both fish into the boat.

Members of the Attawaugan Social club had an outing at Alexander's Lake, Saturday afternoon. One of the features was dancing in the pavilion, music being furnished by the Goodyear orchestra.

A card received here by his relatives from Private Adolphe Barbeau and dated May 27, brings the information that at the time he was in the hospital at the German prison, where he was held from the time of his capture on April 20, 1918, he was in the 102nd Infantry. While he had previously described his wounds as slight, it is now apparent that he remained in the hospital for more than a month.

Forty selected men of this district will leave on Tuesday for Camp Greenleaf, Ga. While there are a few killing men in the contingent the number from this town will be the smallest. It has been going on in a large group since the selective service act was put into effect. Large numbers of men this month are from the towns of Putnam and Thompson.

The shipment of new looms to be installed in the new weave shed just completed for the Assawaugus Woolen company were being unloaded Saturday at Dayville. When these looms are running the plant will have about 100 in use and in production will be very considerably increased. This mill has been doing a very large amount of government work.

Four department heads and foremen of the Assawaugus Woolen company were entertained at Camp Whipperwill, Saturday and Sunday by Warren Chase, Cassius E. Chase and William Chase. The party motored over from Plainville, Conn., where the factory is located. The party was splendidly entertained. King George Jacques served the party a big dinner. The party was a varied program of events that kept all interested all the time. The party returned to Plainville on Sunday evening.

A Trio of Deaths. Mrs. Bridge Doyle, 51, widow of John Doyle, died on Saturday at her home in Waterbury, where she had lived for many years. The body of Mrs. William Bernier, who died in a Worcester hospital on Saturday, was brought to her home in Danielson.

Gilbert Pellerin, 72, died Saturday at his home on Randall street. He was a native of Canada and had lived here many years. The Willimantic Camp Ground (Continued from Page Two)

Platform was filled with singers and the lower platform with ministers. Rev. G. G. Scribner led the large chorus choir in an inspiring praise service. Prayer was offered by Rev. A. Smith, of Bridgewater, R. I. Miss Ruth Hallford, Boston, rendered a beautiful solo. Rev. G. E. Mossman, of Brockton, Mass., South M. E. church, read the Scriptures, Matthew 16: 1-16. Mr. Scribner offered $150 to be used for all expenses, and offering was taken. After another hymn Rev. Archibald D. Ball, D. D., pastor of the large Methodist church in Malden, Mass., offered a prayer.

At 1 o'clock there were very large gatherings at both the children's meeting and the Stafford Springs meeting. The music was inspiring under the fine leadership of Chorister Scribner. The choir, under the leadership of the congregation, sang the favorite songs of the camp.

The afternoon preacher was the Rev. J. M. Charlton, Ph. D., pastor of the Baptist church in Fall River, who is making his first visit to the grounds. His text was John 3:17. I believe God wants all the world to be saved, yet man can say 'No' to God. At 1 o'clock the choir sang 'I want to say 'Yes' to Him. Christ's religion is adapted to us according to our makeup. Christianity is the only religion that makes God attractive. Then if you are to be a true Christian you must serve. We are to be judged according to the deeds done in the body. Dr. Ball pronounced the benediction. The afternoon preacher was also the speaker in the evening and delivered the closing sermon of the camp meetings.

There was a very beautiful and unique praise service Saturday evening at the camp meetings. A large number of young ladies carried out in pantomime the hymn in the Methodist hymnal, 654, 'Hymns of Peace.' Their names were: Miss Margaret Porter, of Manchester; Miss Florence Allen, Vernon; Miss Dorothy Wheeler, Providence; Miss Marjorie Stevens, Vernon; Miss E. Lamphere and daughter, Miss Marjorie Beebe, Willimantic; and Miss Helen Briggs, Hartford.

The preacher of the evening was Rev. Samuel Thatcher of East Hampton.
